Grissom's Flight Puts U.S. Another Step Nearer Moon

GRAND BAHAMA ISLAND (AP)—Two of the world's three space travelers—Virgil Grissom and Alan Shepard Jr.—met with their fellow American astronaut today to plot new steps along the trail that leads to the moon.

First, they want to match the feat of the Russian, Yuri Gagarin, first human to orbit the earth. Then it's on toward President Kennedy's goal of sending an American team to the moon and back in this decade.

"Gus" Grissom relaxed after a hair-raising journey in space that ended in a swim for his life in the Atlantic Ocean.

The Air Force captain, 35, had successfully followed the sub-orbital trail first flown last May 5 by Shepard, but his journey was much more dangerous.

He reported his capsule control system was sluggish and he had trouble with it as he tested it in the weightless environment of space.

Then, when his parachute lowered him into the ocean at the end of his 5,280-mile-an-hour trip, he told Shepard on his radio "you might make a note" of the fact that there was a six-by-six inch hole in the chute. Shepard was at the rocket control center.

Finally, his 118-mile high, 303-mile long flight ended in near-tragedy when the explosive bolts of his escape hatch fired prematurely and Grissom had to scramble quickly out as salty water rushed into the opening.

The wind from the whirling blades of a rescue helicopter drove him beneath the surface for a moment, but his buoyant space suit popped him back up like a cork. He seized a "horse collar" rescue device lowered by the "copter and was hoisted to safety.

Meantime, efforts of another helicopter to salvage the water-filled capsule failed and the $5 million space craft with its precious instruments and its film record of the flight sank beyond hope of recovery in three-mile deep water.

Sentiments of the National Space Agency were summed up by one official who commented: "We've got only one Gus, but we've got plenty of space capsules."

Any, most of the desired information came back on radio telemetry and the agency said there would be no delay in the U.S. space program as a result of the mishap.

President Kennedy watched Grissom's perilous flight on television and telephoned the space man to express his "great pleasure."

Couple Found Dead In Home At Deerfield

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Neighbors in Bear Hollow, alarmed because they had not seen an elderly couple for two days, called the sheriff Friday.

Deputies found Frank J. Schriener, 76, and his wife, Winifred, about 70, shot to death in their home near Deerfield in southeastern Portage County.

Deputy Sheriff Karl Bytner said the wife apparently shot the husband in the abdomen two days ago while he lay in bed. She then shot herself twice in the abdomen and staggered from the bedroom to the kitchen where she was found, deputies theorized. There was a .22-caliber revolver on the bedroom floor.

The coroner was to rule on the deaths. Deputies said the couple had been dead about two days.

Highway Department Cites Accident Rise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—There were more traffic accidents reported to the Ohio Department of Highway Safety in the first five months of this year compared with the same period in 1960. But the number of deaths and injuries decreased sharply.

The department's sum-up through May, listing figures for the corresponding period last year in parentheses: 55,909 accidents (61,573), 544 deaths (708) and 29,734 injuries (31,296).

One Killed, 7 Hurt In Traffic Mishaps

First Draft Of JFK Talk Being Readied

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy expects to have in his hands by Sunday the first draft of the vitally important address he will deliver Tuesday on shoring up the national defense.

For the moment, though, Kennedy cast aside official care and settled into the easy, comfortable ways of a Cape Cod weekend.

Aides said the President's schedule for today was completely blank so far as official appointments were concerned.

But the week ahead will be a heavy one. It includes a radio-TV address Tuesday night outlining the dimensions of the Soviet menace to Berlin and other world trouble spots and the military measures Kennedy plans to take as a consequence. On Wednesday, he will follow through with a message to Congress spelling out how to translate these measures into legislative action.

There have been widespread reports that Kennedy expects to declare at least a limited national emergency, mobilize some of the reserves and National Guard, and ask for a tax increase to pay the bill. The White House was verifying nothing.

Legion Band At State Convention

Members of the American Legion Quaker City Band of Charles H. Carey Post left Friday to compete in the band contest at the Ohio Legion convention in Cincinnati today and Sunday.

The group will participate in contests today and Sunday and also march in the big parade Sunday afternoon.

The local band was the state winner from 1953 to 1958, but did not enter competition the last two years. The aggregation, once named

Governor DiSalle's Daughter Marries Virginia Geologist

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—In the first wedding of an incumbent Ohio governor's daughter since 1933, Barbara Joan DiSalle became the wife today of an Arlington, Va., geologist, John Eric Lindsold.

St. Catharine's Roman Catholic Church in Columbus was the scene of the 11 a.m. ceremony.

The bride, a schoolteacher, was attended by her three sisters, Mrs. Constance Bloomer, Miss Diana DiSalle and Mrs. Antoinette Watkins. Her brother, Michael E. DiSalle, Jacksonville, Fla., was the best man. Their father is Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

The couple was to leave for a week's wedding trip in Colorado after an afternoon reception for 800 in the garden of the Governor's Mansion in suburban Beavercreek.

Lindsold is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Graydon M. Lindsold of Poplar Grove, Ill. He is employed by the U.S. Geological Survey of the Department of the Interior and was an Air Force lieutenant.

The bride, a graduate of St. Mary's College, South Bend, Ind., has been teaching at Silver Spring, Md.

Boy, 3, Dies At Canfield When Hit By Auto

Brian Fiehler Runs Into Path of Car In Front of Home

A three-year-old boy was killed Friday when struck by an automobile and seven other persons were injured in six auto mishaps that occurred Friday and early this morning, the State Patrol reported.

Brian Fiehler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Fiehler of Canfield, darted from a driveway in the front of his home into the path of a car operated by John Bostko, 47, of Struthers at 1:25 p.m. on Rt. 62, a half-mile east of Canfield.

Brian was dead on arrival at South Side Hospital, the Patrol said.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Monday at the Williams Funeral Home in Canfield. Friends may call from 7 to 9 p.m. Sunday. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Memorial Park in Youngstown with the Rev. Charles Fulcomer of the Canfield Presbyterian Church officiating.

Born in Canfield Jan. 5, 1958, he leaves his parents, a sister Ann, 21 months, and two brothers, Craig, 7, and Bruce, 6. Other survivors include a grandmother, Mrs. Emma Fiehler of Canfield, a grandfather, Mr. Frazer Strugelon of Utica, N. Y., and a great-grandmother, Mrs. Peter Miller of Youngstown.

Hurt Near Hanoverton
Three persons were injured in a two-car collision on Rt. 30, two miles west of Hanoverton at 2:20 a.m.

Those injured were: Charles F. Albaugh, 39, of Canton, lacerations of the forehead, contusions of the chest and possible fractured ribs.

Leonard L. Woodward, 33, of Canton, lacerations of lip, bruised right knee and possible fractured ribs and head injury.

Alvin C. Dunlap, of RD 3 Salineville, fractured jaw, possible fractured right foot and body abrasions.

Albaugh was brought to Salem City Hospital where he is in "fair" condition. Both Woodward and Dunlap were taken to Central Clinic where Woodward is in "fairly good" condition, but Dunlap was transferred to Youngstown South Side Hospital where

2 Motorists Lose Driving Licenses

LISBON—Two Columbiana County drivers lost their drivers licenses for one year under the state's 12-point demerit system Friday.

They were John Gary Hill, 20, of 71½ N. Market St., East Palestine, with two fines for driving while intoxicated and a traffic light violation, and George O. Ransom, 64, of Columbiana, two charges of driving while intoxicated and one left of center. Hill accumulated his 14 points over a two-year period but Ransom got all his between March and May of this year.

Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard suspended their driving permits after a report from the State Department of Motor Vehicles showed the above violations.

Action Due At Aug. 14 Meeting

Election Board to Revise Precincts

Creation of 13 new precincts and the revision of boundary lines for two others will be considered by the Columbiana County Election Board when it meets Aug. 14 at 8 p.m.

The board also will determine the sufficiency of petitions from non-partisan candidates for village, township and school district posts for the Nov. 7 election. The filing deadline is Aug. 9 at 4 p.m.

It also will open bids for ballot printing for the general election.

Because of the heavy vote in the precincts in the last presidential election, precincts in East Liverpool, East Palestine, Salem and Columbiana, along with six townships, will be divided.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, explained that state law requires the board to act when 400 or more votes are cast in any voting area. The ideal precinct has been between 250 and 400 electors, he said.

In Salem, Precincts 1-D and 4-D will be split, while Precincts A and E in Columbiana will be divided.

Scheduled to be divided in East Liverpool are precincts 1-A and 4-F, while 4-A will be affected in East Palestine.

Township precincts to be affected include Liverpool North, St. Clair South, Yellow Creek West, Butler North, Hanover North and Perry East.

The board also will consider revising the boundary lines of Northwest A in Lisbon and the Unity Precinct of Unity Township to make them more equal in size, O'Hanlon said.

Creation of the new precincts will boost the county's total to 165. It now has 152.

6 Motorists Lose Permits; 5 Others Fined

LISBON — Six youthful motorists lost their driving permits after traffic court hearings this week at the Courthouse. Five others received fines, two are not to apply for driving permits for a while and one was given a warning.

Michael John Fenske, 17, 1520 Carol Drive, Salem, was given 90 days' suspension for reckless operation.

Samuel Lynn Weingart, 17, Berlin Center, received 30 days' suspension for speeding.

Gary D. Lones, 16, of East Liverpool and Jud C. Chappell, 16, of 911 Franklin St., Salem, 15 days suspension each for speeding.

Sandy R. Smith, 17, Columbiana, 15 days for failing to obey traffic light.

Thurl L. Low, 17, of Rogers, 15 days for failing to stop within the assured clear distance.

John A. Brenize, 15, of Akron, $25 fine for driving without a driver's license.

Galen Lee Newhouse, 17, Salem RD 3, $5 fine for no muffler.

John Borrelli, 17, of 807 E. 3rd St., Salem, $10 fine for failing to obey a stop light.

Floyd G. Everhart, 16, Hanover RD 1, $10 fine for driving on temporary permit without a licensed driver accompanying him.

Bonita Zalick, 17, Negley RD 1, $15 fine for failing to apply for registration.

Robert Ross Westover, 15, Lisbon RD 3, and Richard W. Gallina, 16, Minerva RD 3, both driving without driver's license; Westover is not allowed to apply for a permit before Nov. 1 and Gallina for the next six months.

Thomas Duncan Anderson, 17, of Enon Valley, Pa., was given a warning for crossing a yellow line.

U. S. Organizes Cuban Airlift

Set Up To Evacuate 20,000 Refugees

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States organized a commercial airlift today to give flights from Havana to Miami to more than 20,000 Cuban refugees.

Whether Prime Minister Fidel Castro would permit the mass exodus was not known immediately in Washington.

The State Department announced Friday night that the government had "arranged to defray the cost" of transportation for the more than 20,000 Cuban citizens who are cleared to come to this country. The over-all cost was estimated at around $350,000.

The plan was worked out with Pan American Airways with some special flights to start today from Miami. The full schedule of 10 flights daily, each trip bringing in a little more than 100 persons, is due to start Sunday, the State Department said.

A Pan Am spokesman in Miami said a lot would depend on the speed with which Cuban authorities process the passengers—if they do at all.

"That's a complicated business," he said. "We'll send our regular flight off at 10:30 a.m."

Nicaragua In Path Of Hurricane 'Anna'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Warnings for all residents of northeastern Nicaragua and eastern Honduras to prepare for heavy rains, high tides and winds up to 115 miles per hour were issued today as Hurricane Anna shrieked along a westward course in the Caribbean.

The Miami Weather Bureau says the season's first tropical storm will reach the Nicaraguan coast late today or early tonight.

Anna at 5 a.m. was located near latitude 13.4 north, longitude 78.0 west, or about 350 statute miles east of Puerto Cabezas, on the upper Nicaraguan coast.

The hurricane is moving westward about 20 m.p.h. Little change in size or intensity is expected as the storm continues toward land.

It posed no threat to the U.S. mainland.

"Highest winds are estimated 100 m.p.h. near the center and gales extend out 150 miles to the north and 75 miles to the south," the Weather Bureau said in an advisory.

Confident Living

By Dr. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

The Way To a Happier Life

Gautama Buddha said: "The mind is everything; what you think you become."

This is a great truth that every person needs to learn. If a person could start from childhood to build sound spiritual thought patterns he would be invulnerable to adversity and have a supply of unshakable strength throughout his life. But most of us have not built into our minds such a healthy thought world.

One night I was flying to the West Coast and a man sat with me for much of the flight, who was not only quite out of strength but sick of body, mind and soul as well. He described in detail his physical symptoms — obesity, high blood pressure, shortness of breath, nervous stomach, liver acting up, pains in joints. Unwittingly he displayed an acutely "diseased" mind as well.

As he poured out his sick thoughts they were a miserable compound of resentment, hate, jealousy, pessimism, and lust. He was living a life of low-grade morality, to state it mildly. After regaling me for a couple of hours and a thousand miles of distance with increasingly morbid thoughts, he suddenly asked: "What in the h... do you think is wrong with me?"

"YOUR REFERENCE to hell," I replied thoughtfully, "may be more significant than you realize. It could just be that you are in the shape you're in because you ARE in a state of hell. In other words, your trouble is bad thoughts, very bad thoughts. And remember, please, that bad thoughts like yours can make a person sick, really sick, by externalizing themselves in physical symptoms."

"Bad thoughts — you think that's my trouble, eh?" mused my seatmate. "Who wouldn't have them with all the knocks I've had."

"But let's skip the past," I interrupted, "and do something constructive now. Here is one suggestion, and don't think it won't help, for it will. Start tomorrow to read the first four books of the New Testament — Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. Underscore every sentence that impresses you as a healthy thought. Continue every day, not missing a single day, reading and underscoring."

And commit to memory some of the best passages you underscore — so you can repeat the passages easily without the Book. Say them over and over, savoring their melody and meaning; and at the same time visualize these thoughts as sinking deeply into your mind to cancel out the old rotten, bad thoughts which have been poisoning your consciousness and undermining your health.

"FOR EXAMPLE, take Matthew 6:22: 'The eye is the lamp of the body. So, if your eye is sound, your whole body will be full of light; but if your eye is not sound, your whole body will be full of darkness.' This means that the way you see things, the attitude you take, the slant of your thinking determines whether your whole being shall be full of darkness and gloom, or light and joy. It's how you think and see or look upon life that makes the difference."

And so we shook hands at the airport, and he vanished out of sight, and memory, too. Months later in Chicago a man walked up to me: "Do you remember me?" he asked.

"You look familiar, but I must confess I can't place you," I replied. "I'm not surprised," he replied, "though I spent a night with you once. But then I was broken down, overfat, washed up."

"Well, that description certainly doesn't fit you now," I said, looking admiringly at the trim, clean-cut, healthy-looking man in front of me. Then I remembered — "I know!" I exclaimed. "You're the man with the bad thoughts."

"WAS, YOU MEAN, but no more," he said with a grin. "I really went to work on that Bible plan of yours. I now have a lot of Scripture passages packed down in my consciousness. My mind is

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Virgil Grissom Pinned It Down

There should be no room for doubt in the minds of our astronauts that they are doing double duty in their historic project to put a man in far-space by learning first about the problems of travel in near-space.

Their first interest is scientific. Astronaut Virgil I. Grissom's successful flight Friday morning pinned down what had been demonstrated by Alan B. Shepard last May. Except for the mishap that caused Grissom's capsule to sink after it landed in the water, his flight was the same as Shepard's. Certain refinements in design had been made in the meantime, but his space ship proved again it is possible to predict with near-certainty what the ships' characteristics in flight will be.

Even the sinking was a foreseen factor. It had been provided for. The astronaut's technique for leaving the capsule had been worked out as carefully as the calculations for the length of its flight.

It is the success of the plans that constitute the other part of the double-duty the astronauts are performing. They are part of a project having massive effect on the nation's morale. They are dramatizing with their performance the ability of American scientists to meet the challenge of the space age.

An accident of publicity, more than anything else, has caused many Americans to doubt their own country. The Soviet Union has done such a good job of tooting its own horn that the United States has suffered by comparison. But the United States has been deficient only in horn-tooting, not in things to toot about.

Astronauts Shepard and Grissom have proved this. They have made Americans feel as proud as they felt nearly a third of a century ago when one of their young men, Charles A. Lindbergh, flew a solo flight across the North Atlantic. A little later on, such feats became commonplace, but Lindbergh earned his countrymen's gratitude by being a pioneer.

Even Yuri Gagarin's earth-circling flight last April does not take the shine off Shepard and Grissom. They're ours! We know every detail of this accomplishment — and we're still guessing about Maj. Gagarin's.

Ohioans Need More Jobs

Ohio Gov. DiSalle seems to be opening his fight for a second term with a peppy indictment of the Republican-controlled General Assembly for trimming his budget.

But we find in the indictment this saving thought: That he will try his best to maintain state aid programs for the needy at their present level.

This should not be difficult within the multi-million-dollar elasticity of appropriations that are ample for continuation of existing programs, even though the Republican majority in the legislature didn't think this was the time for spending increases and the certainty of more tax boosts when it came time to pay the piper two years from now.

The DiSalle administration is not being required to cut back its operations, only its hopes of increases. It was informed by the Republican majority in the legislature that a little more than a billion dollars a year is the spending limit at this time.

REPUBLICANS lack a spokesman with the charm and persuasiveness of Mike DiSalle to spread their story around the state. But like his story of more and more spending in the hope of making more and more people grateful to the spenders, the Republicans do have a theme of their own.

Their theme — and they've been using it a long time in this state — is the long-term value of moderation in Ohio spending. They want to make Ohio as attractive as it can be made for all taxpayers and especially for taxpayers who are thinking about adding to Ohio employment opportunities.

Jobs for Ohioans are not made by lowering the boom on private enterprise. Michigan learned about that during the multitudinous terms of former Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

This state's prosperity does not depend on how much money it can spend but on how little money it must take from its citizens in taxation. This is the basic difference between Republican and Democratic doctrine.

OHIO REPUBLICANS want to make the state more attractive to taxpayers.

Ohio Democrats often seem to want to make it more attractive to tax spenders.

There is nothing to prevent the DiSalle administration from continuing to do a good administrative job. The sky will not fall because the legislature did not give it all the money it asked for. Millions of us are in the same boat we're cutting the coat to fit the cloth, too.

What Ohio needs is not more spending power but hundreds of thousands of new jobs to create more buying power for its citizens.

Foreign Aid Bungle

By RAYMOND MOLEY

The vast size of the federal establishment, the incapacity of members of Congress to master the many problems brought to them by the executive, and the sensational instances of maladministration which become generally known, often lead to indiscriminate rejection of good programs.

Nothing illustrates this danger more than the growing opposition to foreign aid — all foreign aid.

There have been, in many countries, quite successful and beneficial operations in American aid.

There have also been incredible failures.

So when President Kennedy asks for another big commitment, even when backed by his predecessor, there are not only demands that some evidence of administrative reform be produced but a growing disposition to terminate the whole program. Nothing illustrates the defects of the operations of the International Cooperation Administration better than its record in Iran.

The British, who have dealt with such nations for as many generations as we have in years, are very much alive to our failure.

The Times of London has recently noted this in two articles which included the suggestion that "the United States, whose ward Iran is, has in any case to ponder now all the more closely what its policy towards Iran should be."

Hitherto Iran has demonstrated that the more the Americans try to help, the less they often achieve. Judging by Iran's internal circumstances, the United States instead of giving or lending the Iranians more money for the present, might find it more beneficial if it cut off aid for a year."

CONGRESS is not unaware of what has been going on in the land once ruled by Darius and Xerxes.

The comptroller general, who follows and reports on the money committed by Congress to the executive department, has sent to the speaker an account of Iranian aid which should cause an American taxpayer to clutch his heart with one hand and his purse with the other.

I select one item from this sorry collection as an example.

It is a fact which might be duly noted that our imposing edifice to international brotherhood, the United Nations, is built upon land on the East River formerly occupied by a slaughterhouse.

Perhaps inspired by this example of spears bent into plowshares, the ICA decided to help the Iranian government to have a decent slaughterhouse in Teheran. That was in 1952, when $15,000 was committed to buy equipment for a structure erected by the Iranian government.

In the years that followed more money was set aside for expansion — amounting to $576,000 in dollars and $106,000 in Iranian rials. In addition, ICA approved a loan of $290,000 toward construction costs.

SHORTLY AFTER 1952, when been installed, a technician of the "mission" of the ICA reported that the building was insanitary and that it should not be used. Nevertheless, it was put in operation, and $142,000 was obligated to finance additional improvements.

Then there was an inspection by a U.S. "Nutrition team," which reported that the meat emanating from the affair was unfit for human consumption. But the ICA continued the project and provided financing for off-shore procurement of refrigeration.

The Iranian government was to contribute to the construction of a building for the new equipment.

Then a German consultant was hired to develop general plans, which should have been ready before the initial help was provided. The German recommended that an engineering firm be employed to make plans and specifications for a new building and equipment.

The ICA allocated $150,000 for this expense out of the original allocation. After a delay of 27 months, an American engineering firm was hired.

MORE YEARS PASSED, until in mid-1959 the plans were ready. Meanwhile, of course, there had been certain de-obligations, re-obligations, and sub-obligations of the proposed funds.

Finally a suitable IranianBritish contractor was found to do the construction. Work began in 1960. Present progress was not reported by the comptroller general.

Thus, four nations were occupied at various times with this project over the years. That certainly is "international cooperation." It ought to be quite a slaughterhouse, with such a distinguished history.

Of Arms And Men

By S.L.A. MARSHALL

Handling The Berlin Situation

Being worried about the Russian threat against Berlin, the Senate Disarmament Committee asked the expert witness what the United States should do to counter it.

It was Sen. Russell Long, D-La., who did the questioning. He was bothered, because in face of the Russian demand that Western garrisons be withdrawn from West Berlin, he couldn't envisage how the power of the United States could successfully resist the pressure.

Sen. Long's statement of the problem was a bit on the vague side. But what the committee ultimately released for publication went about like this:

"Our people say, if they (the Russians) are going to cut us off from Berlin, we are not going to take it lying down. We will try to move through. We will send forward a tank division. But once a military solution becomes necessary, we don't have the conventional forces to follow up. "The military solution could be provoked immediately. Or the Russians may try a step-by-step approach. There would be no particular point at which the United States is justified in resorting to atomic warfare. How then can the situation be handled?"

THE WITNESS, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, replied: "We have all the strength that is necessary, if we are willing to mobilize it and do so in time."

Sen. Long asked: "Mobilize the entire nation?"

Gen. Taylor replied: "Yes. You cannot play around in this business unless you have a lot of blue chips in your pocket. This is unlimited poker."

That's all from the record. However, the Disarmament Committee wasn't buying national mobilization on that day and, in fact, hardly anyone else in government except Gen. Taylor was talking about it.

Such significance as attends this exchange of views comes of the date. While it sounds fresh enough that it might have taken place last week, it took place on Feb. 2, 1959.

Gen. Taylor, who is now the military representative of the President, was at that time the Army's Chief of Staff. His words weigh much heavier now, and not only because the threat is deemed more acute.

Then, as now, events seemed to be rushing on the double toward a deadline. Three months earlier, Premier Khrushchev had uttered his first threat against the Allied presence in Berlin, calling for the removal of the Western garrisons by May 27.

THIRTY-ONE MONTHS have since slipped by. In that interval, as to force levels and weapons on hand or forthcoming, the United States has not improved its relative position.

According to some of the experts, the "missile gap," which was then little more than a conversation piece, has become a steadily widening reality.

So within the highest councils of government, Gen. Taylor, who is nothing if not consistent, should be offering the same advice as to what we must do — mobilize, if not the nation, at least enough of it to signal to the Russians that we will not be bluffed from this game of "unlimited poker."

But if unlimited is the right word, then the other camp is not likely to throw in its hand because of the mustering of a few additional legions.

It should be a proper question: What would have been accomplished if the Taylor advice had been followed in 1959?

If there is a line of reasoning in support of the proposition that by mobilizing then, the United States would today be better off, the USSR would have been taught a lasting lesson and the world would not longer be sweating out a recurring Berlin crisis, then we ought to know what it is, we really ought to know.

Whatever the cost in dollars, disruption of national normalcy and restoration of governmental controls over the economy, it would have been worth the price.

BUT MOBILIZATION, unaccompanied by an ultimatum (and it is against our religion to talk like an aggressor) may never of itself bring an adversary to terms; to the side which invokes it, without a workable plan for achieving the political object, it rides as heavily on the back as the Old Man of the Sea.

Let's look at Brother Khrushchev in the weeks which followed Gen. Taylor's meeting with the committee.

He wasn't even sitting at the same poker table; that winter and spring, it was a different game than Gen. Taylor had imagined.

For whatever reasons prompted him, whether he didn't feel the USSR was ready for the showdown, or wished to protract Western anguish over Berlin, or hungered for a peaceful turn in the world spotlight, Mr. K was more interested in chasing the butterflies of summitry that season than in digesting free Berlin.

Did the change of program, the illusory appearance of the fleeting grin of conciliation, either lower his personal prestige or become marked as a setback to Russia?

A foolish question. His credit went up among the neutrals because he had waved an olive branch. Had the United States mobilized, it might have looked not only belligerent but silly.

Mobilization then would not have made us better prepared for what comes now. In the interim, we would have wearied of its burdens and hairshirts. This review has no object but to illuminate the Washington dilemma. Mr. K can do it all again and it is wearying.

Girl-Watching

By TRUMAN TWILL

It's the beauty queen season again, though for us girl-watchers the season never ends. We're always busy.

The beauty queen thing leaves us watchers cold, because the setup is too stiff. The girls aren't being themselves.

A girl-watcher gets his kicks out of charm where he finds it, not out of the fake charm turned on for the judges and the cameramen by contestants in beauty-queen shows. Not that some of the contestants wouldn't be all right if they weren't competing, but the shine is off the apple for us girl-watchers when electricians, cameramen, makeup artists, dressmakers and tub-thumpers move in.

A girl-watcher needs no special occasion to practice his specialty. He doesn't need to see the object of his admiration in a special costume to get mileage out of his pleasure. She looks as good to him in a pair of blue jeans as in a bathing suit—well, almost as good.

This is something not everybody understands about us girl-watchers and as a favor to them this is it:

Girl-watching after a certain age becomes highly impersonal, like cloud-watching. It becomes a ritual in which we watchers honor or the attractiveness of the other sex for what it means to all mankind — not to us as individuals.

Failure to understand this causes critics to indict us for attitudes and thoughts that never cross our minds. Honest. We're as objective as it's possible to be about the other sex.

That's why they call us girl-watchers, see. If it were otherwise, they'd call us something severe, which we wouldn't deserve. Girls would have to be afraid of us.

But the way it is, there's no reason to do anything except appreciate us. There isn't a girl anywhere who shouldn't be thankful for girl-watchers. We're as useful as shills to a pitchman or claque to opera divas.

The greatest favor we dare to ask, and we don't even ask this often, is to watch, without arousing suspicion.

Girls should be grateful to us watchers, and more of them would be if they knew what we were doing. We're up to no tricks or mischief. We know our place.

We ask for no conversation, no favors, no attention. We want only to be let alone, to feast our eyes and to arrive ultimately at a point of satiety. That's another special thing about us girl-watchers.

Once we have turned in a performance, we may never lay an eye again on the girl we've been watching. We don't need to. We've taken it all in.

We can tell you years later that her left ankle bows out a trifle when she walks, that she has a small mole on her throat and just a soupcon of astigmatism in her right eye, which she corrects with glasses when she reads, that her hair is color-rinsed, she plucks her eyebrows and wears shoes too small for her, to flatter her feet, which are longish.

Aside from that she's a living doll. We girl-watchers are thorough—no casual inspections.

We Are Growing

Construction activity this summer has found most of the saws and hammers resounding in the Perry Township area surrounding Salem, rather than inside the corporate limits.

Recent reports of Township Zoning Inspector Harold England show new construction and repair work in the township valued, collectively, at $149,998. Although nearly comparable building activity is noted within the city, the greater construction activity—especially that of new homes—will occur in the ever-expanding outlying suburban area. Actually, there isn't much room left inside the corporate limits, unless new streets are platted.

It doesn't mean necessarily that the boundaries someday will have to be extended, but it does point up the fact that our community is growing, even if it is on the other side of the city markers.

A Public Bouquet

Many visitors to Salem have commented on how nice the flower pots look, hanging from the city light poles where they were placed by the Kiwanis Club and are being tended to by our faithful, industrious Senior Citizens Club.

And now John Gilbert has added to the decorative touch to the downtown area by planting flowers on the lawn of the Post Office building.

Anyone who tries to contribute to the beauty of the city deserves a public bouquet.

Once Over

America is color crazy. Color phones are the rage, colored paper money is urged by U.S. Secretary of Treasury and now Chicago will have colored streets! All Illinois may soon see yellow highways marking approaches to intersections, and red roads at intersections.

Gray highway may become so old-fashioned you can be arrested for being on it. But highway slaughter will never be ended until way is found to color the drivers. We favor application of this idea to car operators:

1. Drivers convicted more than twice of reckless driving: suits with black and white stripes.

2. Habitual weavers in and out of line: Red coat with skull and bones on rear of coat and rear of auto.

3. Drunks: Zigzag lines across sleeveless costume with emblem of bottle on hat in multiple colors.

4. Incurable red-light scoffers: Polka dot clothing, with front and rear end of auto painted vivid pink with words "No Brains" in sharply contrasting tones.

ANYBODY WHO PAYS $400 for boat built by schoolboys, as revealed in New York school probe, must be an optimist, a sea-going man of extra bravery or a fellow who has never been on the water.

Hilverding-Frost Wedding Is Held At Louisville

Twin vases of white carnations graced the altar in the chapel of the Paradise United Church of Christ in Louisville for the Saturday afternoon wedding of Miss RD 1, East Rochester. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Frost of Louisville are the bridegroom's parents.

Rev. Robert Keiser officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. George Robb of Louisville sang "O Perfect Love," "Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Earl Lair of Louisville.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a ballerina-length gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta and tulle. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a portrait neckline and long sleeves. A white satin sash and cabbage roses accented the waistline of the full skirt.

A crown of seed pearls and sequins held her English illusion veil. She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations and stephanotis.

Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Susan Hilverding of East Rochester. She appeared in a gown of white silk organza over pink taffeta, styled with a portrait neckline and full ballerina-length skirt. She wore a pink organza picture hat and carried a cascading bouquet of pink carnations.

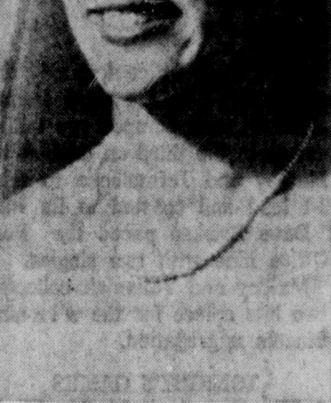

Donald Frost of Louisville was best man for his brother. The ushers were James Hilverding, brother of the bride, and Wesley Gluck of Louisville.

Pink carnation corsages and white accessories complemented the blue ensembles worn by the mothers of the couple.

Guests from Canton, Salem, Alliance, Wooster, Kent, East Rochester, Louisville, Hanoverton, Willoughby, Akron and Warren attended the reception in the church social room. The tiered wedding cake was topped with a bridal figurine and flanked by pink tapers in crystal candelabra.

A 1957 graduate of Salem High School, Mrs. Frost is employed as a secretary by the Hoover Co. in North Canton. Her husband is a graduate of Louisville High School and is employed as a draftsman by United Engineering and Foundry in Canton.

Following their undisclosed wedding trip, the couple will reside at 708 E. Gorgas St. in Louisville.

Our Community Club Marks Anniversary

Our Community Club of RD Leetonia (Salem Township) celebrated its 30th anniversary Wednesday with a dinner party at Grady's Restaurant.

Seventeen ladies and three children were present. Guests were Miss Marjori Hart of Milwaukee, whose mother was a charter member, and Mrs. Genesta Gray of Salem, who was the club's first secretary-treasurer.

There were seven charter members in attendance. Potted plants were awarded to those over 60 years of age.

Two four-generation families were present, including Mrs. Bessie Herr and daughter, Mildred, her daughter, Mrs. Betsy Shafer, and her year old son, Scott; and Mrs. Vera Waddell, Mrs. Kathleen Barnes, Mrs. Irla Rae Bendfield and daughter, Kay Ann.

The minutes of the first meeting were read, after which a group picture was taken. The group was then entertained at the home of Mrs. Alfred Lee.

The Aug. 2 meeting will be at the Barnes home with Mrs. Bendfield and Mrs. Lulu Barnes as hostesses.

DeMolay Will Hold Progressive Dinner

The annual progressive dinner for the DeMolay members will be an event of Tuesday. The DeMolay Mothers Club is sponsoring the dinner for DeMolay members and guests.

The group will meet at the Masonic Temple at 6 p.m., and then go to the home of Mrs. Ted Enders of Georgetown Road for juice; to the home of Mrs. Ralph Starbuck of 226 N. Broadway for salad; to the Temple for the main course; and to the Salem Country Club for dessert and the evening's entertainment.

Parents of the Lisbon members will serve as chaperones.

Mrs. Grace Stratton Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stratton of 1199 Buckeye Ave., was recently named to the honor list at Malone College, Canton, for second semester 1960-61.

Cleveland Nipped 4-3 by Minnesota In Ninth

Indians Hitless For Seven Innings

Held Raps Homer for First Tribe Hit; Bubba Socks 14th In Ninth

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — A grounder that failed to roll foul... A waiting game by pitcher Joe Schaffernoth... Alert base running by Jose Valdivielso.

Those were the ingredients that gave the Minnesota Twins the winning run in the ninth inning Friday to beat the Indians, 4-3, in the opener of a three-game series.

The pitching of Don Lee, who hurled a no-hitter for 7 2/3 innings, was the talk of the fans before the game's abrupt ending.

There were two outs and Valdivielso was on second base with a fielder's choice and a stolen base when Lenny Green topped a roller just inside the first base line.

Hawkins Pulled In Eighth Schaffernoth, who had come on in the eighth in relief of Cleveland starter Wynn Hawkins, didn't have a chance to throw out Green and elected to wait for the ball to roll foul, but it stayed fair.

Meanwhile, Valdivielso raced around third and scored the winning run standing up.

Lee, a 27-year-old right-hander who has been plagued with injuries and minor ailments this season, faced only 25 men — two over the limit — in the first 7 2/3 innings and had not allowed a runner past first base. With two out in the eighth, Woodie Held lined a 2-2 pitch into the left center field bleachers for the Indians' first hit.

A single by pinch-hitter Don Dillard followed Held's homer and Johnny Temple then sliced a double to right field. Dillard scored the Indians' second run when Lee dropped Jim Piersall's bouncer to the mound for an error.

A leadoff homer by Bubba Phillips in the ninth, his 14th of the season, gave the Indians their other run.

Twins Score Three In Fourth The Twins scored their first three runs in the fourth inning. Allison drew a walk and scored

Johnson, Cassius Clay Fight Tonight

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Is Olympic light heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay too young to be meeting top-flight heavyweights?

That question could be answered tonight when the boastful 19-year-old Louisville native steps into the ring against Alonzo Johnson for a nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m., EST) 10-round bout from Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Clay, who turned pro less than a year ago, has won five of his seven professional fights by knockouts. Johnson, 26, has a 19-7 record.

Johnson, of Rankin, Pa., was expected to weigh in at about 187 pounds. Clay was expected to weigh 194 pounds.

Johnson's manager, Mike Bazzone, said, "right now Clay is a little too young to be meeting the top-flight heavies."

"He's never been put to a tough test yet but Alonzo will put him through one."

The cocky Clay has predicted he will be heavyweight champion in two years.

Hank Bauer Sparks Athletics In His Last Game As Player

By FRANK CRAWFORD Associated Press Sports Writer KANSAS CITY (AP) — Hank Bauer, hero of many a World Series game, and known as one of the greatest competitors in baseball, bowed out as an active player Friday night in the true Bauer tradition.

The rifle-armed right fielder drove in the winning run as his Kansas City Athletics knocked off Detroit 3-2 and dumped the Tigers out of first place in favor of the New York Yankees, his old team.

The fans and his teammates gave him a load of presents, including a motor car, in a ceremony marking his last game as a player. Bauer, who replaced Joe Gordon last month, has been a playing manager.

13-Game Streak Snapped; Jaycees, Lincoln Win in Slo-Pitch

Amvets Stop Lincoln Machine; John Stoffer Hurls No-Hitter

George Alek's homer enabled the Alliance Amvets to turn in the biggest upset in city softball action this year as it stopped league-leading Lincoln Machine's 13-game winning streak, 2-1 in Class A play Friday at Kelley Park.

John Stoffer hurled a no-hitter for second place Mile Branch as he handcuffed Sheely's Furniture, 9-1. Mile Branch gained one full game on Lincoln and now trail the league-leaders by two and a half games.

In Slo-Pitch League encounters the Jaycees whipped Eljer, 10-7 and Lincoln Machine dumped winless Post Office, 6-1.

The Amvets nine scored its first run in the first inning when Krabill walked, advanced on a sacrifice by Jeffries and scored on a single by Bryan.

LINCOLN TIED the score in the fifth frame when Joe Garmelo lined out a single and advanced on an error and was brought home on Bill Crookston's double.

The game was a tight pitcher's duel between Judge Guiler of Lincoln and J. Moulin of Alliance with the climax coming on Alek's homer in the last of the sixth inning to cap the victory for third place Alliance.

Guiler took the loss as he gave up but three hits, fanned four and walked five.

Moulin allowed Lincoln five safeties, four singles and a double, but walked only one and struck out four.

Lincoln is now 18-4 on the season while the Amvets nine sports a 10-6 mark, five games off the pace.

Mile Branch poured two runs across the plate in the last of the sixth inning to overcome a 1-0 lead by Sheely's who tallied a run in the top of the second on a walk by Lipp, and error and a sacrifice.

The winners added one run in the fifth and two more in the sixth to win the tilt handily.

K. Cranston was the big man in Mile Branch's nine-hit attack as he rapped out two triples and a double in three trips to the plate for a perfect night. Woolf aided the Mile Branch cause by socking out two singles.

Stoffer had complete control of the game as he fanned five and walked five.

Twenty-eight hits were totaled by the Jaycees and Eljer with the Jaycees collecting 13.

The Jaycees took a 2-1 lead in the first frame and never fell behind as a homer by Wagner, triples by Jerry Binder and Bill Baker, along with doubles by Binder and Smith powered the winners to their second win.

BOB CONROY and Baker paced the Jaycee onslaught with three hits apiece in four trips to the plate.

Eljer's 15-hit attack was paced by Carlariello with three singles. He was followed by Kachner, Paylos, Whitehill, Taylor and Herman with two safeties each. Kachner blasted out a triple for the only extra base hit for Eljer.

Winless Post Office lost its fourth game as eight errors helped to its downfall.

Lincoln Machine jumped out to a 1-0 margin in the first frame.

Australian Leads Open At Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Bruce Crampton, a former Australian Open champion who has had little success on the U.S. pro golf tour, held a one-stroke lead today at the halfway mark of the 72-hole $30,000 Milwaukee Open.

Carmpton, 25, mastered a rain-soaked course with a brilliant six-under par 64 for a 36-hole total of 134 Friday in edging past Don Massengale, Tommy Bolt, Stan Leonard and Dave Marr, who were grouped with 135s.

Crampton, whose last major victory was in the Far East Open in 1959, has won only $1,530 in official prize money in 15 PGA co-sponsored tournaments this year.

Massengale, the first round co-leader with Fred Hawkins, added a par 70 to his 65 in falling back one stroke.

Marr, 27-year-old New York club pro now playing out of Sun City Ariz., fired a tremendous 65 to go with his opening 70.

Leonard and Bolt each posted 68s to go with 69s.

Five players were tied with 136, six at 137, five at 138 and 10 at 139.

SIX TIE AT HORSESHOES

MUNCIE, Ind. (AP) — Six men tied for leads in the World's Horseshoe Championship Friday night with perfect 5-0 records. They are Harold Reno, Sabina, Ohio Ted Allen, Boulder, Colo. Curt Day, Frankfort, Ind., Floyd Toole, Pine Bluff, Ark., Elmer Hohl, Wellsley, Ont., and Gene Brumfield, Marklevillen, Ind.

Allen is a 10-time winner and 1959 champion.

Originally seven games were scheduled to be played, but officials decided the round-robin field was running too late and extended the tourney to Wednesday night with six games each of the next five nights.

Blanchard Powers NY Into First; Tigers Fall

By The Associated Press Manager Hank Bauer closed out his career as a player by driving home the winning run in Kansas City's 3-2 victory over Detroit Friday night that knocked the Tigers out of the American League lead.

Bauer's ex-mates, the New York Yankees, moved back on top by a half-game after coming from behind for an 11-8 victory on pinchhitter Johnny Blanchard's grand slam homer with two out in the ninth.

Maris, Mantle Berra Homer Blanchard's shot following homers by Roger Maris, Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra, was the sixth pinch-hit slam of the season in the AL, breaking the major league record of five set by the American League in 1953.

Minnesota defeated Cleveland 4-3 and the Los Angeles Angels walloped Washington 16-5 in the other AL games. Baltimore-Chicago was rained out.

In the National League, St. Louis knocked off Los Angeles 10-1, dropping the second place Dodgers two games behind the Cincinnati Reds, who were idled by rain. Milwaukee defeated Pittsburgh 5-3 and Philadelphia beat the Chicago Cubs 4-3 in 10 innings.

The A's beat right-hander Phil Regan (9-5) with three runs in the third. Norm Siebern, another ex-Yankee, doubled home two and then scored on a single by Bauer, who was honored before this final game as a player by Kansas City fans. Southpaw Jim Archer (7-5) won it with a six-hit.

Blanchard's first major league slam saved southpaw ace Whitey Ford from defeat after the Yankees blew 2-0 and 6-3 leads. Ford, shooting for his 18th victory and 12th in a row, left when the Red Sox went ahead with four runs in the fifth inning. Luis Arroyo (6-3) was the winner and Arnie Earley (1-4) the loser, although Blanchard's shot was off Mike Fornieles.

Get Successive Blasts Maris and Mantle connected for successive home runs in the first inning off Bill Monbouquette and now have slugged 73 homers between them. Mick's was No. 37, putting him 22 games ahead of Babe Ruth's record-60 pace of 1927.

The Angels clubbed 20 his off loser Ed Hobaugh (6-5) and four relievers, putting away for Ron Moeller (4-5) with a five-run fourth inning. Albie Pearson and George Hunt each had four singles. The two clubs tied a major league record by leaving 30 men on base, 15 each.

Corso's Wins First Round In Flying B Golf League

Corso's Wine Shop chalked up a total of 133 points to edge out the Powder Puff Beauty Salon by 15 markers to capture the first round of the Flying B Golf League.

The league-leaders moved into the top spot after the third week of play and never relinquished their hold on first place for the remaining seven weeks of first round competition.

Playing for the Corso aggregation is Ralph Knepper, Bill Wagner, Moe Mercer, Don White and Dick Wyss.

Gilbert's Drive-In and Lincoln Machine have jelled into well-oiled teams and will be in the thick of second round play. Both Gilbert's and Lincoln were floundering around the tail end of the pack but both teams consistently climbed to the top.

Third place was pulled down by Gilbert's with 110 points while the Lincoln crew finished in fourth with 108 1/2 points.

First No-Hit, No-Run Tilt Turned In by Alliance Team

Ailes Insurance Grabs Hot Stove Tourney Win; EF, Fisher's Lose

Ailes Insurance managed to get one hit but pushed two runs across the plate to blank Strains Dairy Queen of Alliance, 2-0 to be the only one of three Salem teams to snare a victory Friday in the opening round of the District Hot Stove Tournament here.

The first no-hit, no-run game of the tourney was turned in by the Alliance No. 1 team as pitcher Ray Taylor handuffed the Columbiana Citizens Bank crew for a 25-0 victory in Class G play.

HIGHLY TOUTED Electric Furnace and Fisher News, both of the Class F loop, were the first Salem entries to be defeated. The Furnace nine, current leaders of the Class F league with a 9-1 mark, was blanked 3-0 by the Mount Union Dairy Isle while Fisher's News was bombed by Sebring Miller-Pinecrest, 19-2.

In other games last night Goshen Center dumped the Alliance UCT, 14-3 in Class H and the Alliance Junior Yankees tripped Sebring Smith Garage, 6-4 in Class E action.

Ailes scored in the first inning when Larry Hrvatin walked and then scored on an error by Strains. The winners added their final tally in the third frame as Bill Odorizzi lined out a single and then managed to get home with the run.

Craig Anderson copped the win for Ailes, who are 6-0 in Class H league play, as he gave up three singles, walked four and fanned six.

ELECTRIC FURNACE committed four errors that paved the way to its loss. Two errors in the fourth frame broke a pitcher's duel between Chuck Alexander of Electric Furnace and Brad Clark of Mount Union as the winners scored one run.

Mount Union iced the contest in the seventh inning as it lined out two singles and was aided by two more Furnace miscues to tally two runs and take the win. Clark allowed the Furnace nine to only two scratch singles, one by Alexander and the other by Bob Rozeski.

Fisher's News found itself behind 2-0 after the first inning of play but fought back to a 3-1 deficit on Howard Fowler's triple in the second frame.

Sebring Miller-Pinecrest's Bryon Mingledorf socked a homer in the top of the second to edge the winners, who scored in every inning, into the 3-1 margin.

In the first half of the third frame the roof caved in on the Salem team as Sebring poured seven runs across on five hits to take a 10-1 lead. Fisher's got its final run in the last of the third on a single by Mike Malloy and two errors.

THE WINNERS, aided by 11 Fisher's News errors, chalked up six more runs in the fourth and three final tallies in the fifth to win in a romp.

Rick Hackett paced the Fisher's News nine with two singles.

The Electric Furnace and Fisher's News defeats leave Salem with the Elks as the only entry in Class F play.

Jaycee Clinic Planned Today At Columbiana

COLUMBIANA—A "Chairman's Clinic" for Junior Chamber of Commerce leaders throughout the area will be held today at Arrowhead Lake.

It was to begin at 1:30 p.m., with a break for swimming and recreation at 3:30, dinner at 5:30, and a District 5 meeting at 6:30.

Dave Gregg of Youngstown, vice president of District 5 off the Junior Chamber of Commerce, has arranged the meeting. Dale Kampfer, local Jaycees president, arranged the attendance of committee chairmen.

The Booster Club is sponsoring a record hop this evening from 8:30 to 11:30 at Dixon School. Proceeds will go to the score-board fund.

ELMER DETWILER, newly-installed president of the Rotary Club, has assigned the chairmanships of the Rotary Club's operating committees.

Committee chairmen are: Sam Lindsay Jr., vocational service; Earl Corey, international service; Edwin Dillon, community service; Donald Beckham, club service; Robert Bertelson, youth service;

Gonda Files For Board of Education

Stephen A. Gonda, who was named by the Board of Education to fill the unexpired term of Robert Heddlston following the latter's death a year ago, announced today that he has filed with the Board of Elections as a candidate for the full term.

Mr. Gonda, who is sales manager of the Gonda Engineering Division of the Schnell Tool & Die Co., resides at 974 Homewood Ave. with his wife and two daughters.

Dr. Donald Lease of Highland Ave., whose term also expires this year, announced earlier this month that he will not seek reelection. He has been a member of the school board for the last eight years. Terms are for four years.

No other candidates have announced but several persons have secured petitions from the board of elections, including Mrs. George Farrington and Paul M. Howard.

The two seats on the board are to be filled at the Nov. 7 general election.

Flight

sure and satisfaction." Then he signed a bill pumping $1.7 billions into the all-out American drive to reach the moon before a "cosmonaut" plants the Russian flag there.

Grisson himself saw a television film showing of his flight after arrival here. He spent a relaxed evening, looked in briefly on a celebration in his honor, then went to bed about 9 p.m.

Earlier, the crew-cut man with an easy smile but few words underwent a physical checkup and reported on the many vital details of his 16-minute flight.

"He swallowed lots of water and spent a lot of energy staying afloat," said Lt. Col. William Douglas, personal physician for the astronauts. "But he didn't become sick."

Today, a surgeon, an eye specialist, a neurologist and an internist turned to the second half of the exhaustive medical examination. Psychologists questioned Grissom, too, and engineers talked about the premature blow-out of the capsule escape hatch. They want to eliminate that "bug" in a hurry.

As Grissom let his nerves unwind on this British island, his wife, Betty, did the same back in Newport News, Va.

"Now I can rest for a few days and get back to normal," she said after watching the thrills-packed show on television. "I almost cried when the capsule sank."

Deaths, Funerals

Rev. Frantz Funeral

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the Coalburg Methodist Church near Hubbard for Rev. Paul B. Frantz, 49, of Nova, who died of a heart attack at 2:45 a.m. Friday at his home.

Friends may call at the Stewart-Kyle Funeral Home in Hubbard this evening from 7 to 9 and Sunday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Born in Salem, Aug. 21, 1911, he was the son of Margaret Heinemann Frantz and the late George Frantz.

He attended Salem High school, and served as pastor of the Coalburg, McGuffey and Nova Methodist Churches.

Besides his mother of Youngstown, he leaves his wife, Dorothy Osgood Frantz; a daughter, Mrs. Bonita Dotson of Youngstown; a son, Robert Paul Frantz of Chicago; six grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Frank Wilson of Youngstown, Mrs. Mark Craig of Berlin Center, Mrs. Robert Woodworth of Salem; and a brother, Oscar Frantz of Youngstown.

A brother and sister preceded him in death.

Survivors include her husband, Dwight Hall; two sons, Harold Hall of Phoenix, Ariz., T. Sgt. Harley R. Hall, formerly of Washingtonville, now stationed with the Air Force in Goldsboro, N.C.; and a daughter, Mrs. Mabel Goodwin of Marietta.

Bizerte

and Tunisia to stop shooting and settle their dispute over the Bizerte base by negotiation.

The United States has taken this stand in the United Nations Security Council debate on the crisis while the Soviet Union has openly backed Tunisia.

Bourguiba declared Tunisia will resist French troops until the problem of the Bizerte base is settled politically.

He paid tribute to the determination to resist and the morale of the country in the face of the crisis.

"This is more of a psychological than military problem," he declared in his French-language speech.

French citizens of Bizerte told the Associated Press offices in Tunis by telephone that Tunisian snipers were firing at French troops deploying through the town.

Rifle and machinegun fire was heard over the telephone line.

"No one really knows what is going on," said one telephone report. "The Tunisians are firing on French troops from rooftops and windows, but there appears to be no organized resistance."

French tanks held strategic points of the city, 40 miles east of Tunis.

Roadblocks manned by French troops hold a large perimeter around the naval base — three miles south of Bizerte — from which the Tunisians are trying to drive them.

In Tunis rumors among the civilians spoke of French tanks moving toward Tunis. There was no confirmation of any kind to these rumors.

The Tunisian government radio continued to blare martial music and appeals of "to arms!"

Life in the capital was normal on the surface except for growing groups of tense Tunisians lining some of the streets.

Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba has called for an emergency session of the Arab League, which he had boycotted for several years. Some observers saw a forging of Arab unity in the face of the Bizerte crisis.

Meanwhile, bitterness against the West increased among average Tunisians. They accused the West of tolerating what they called French aggressive action at Bizerte.

"You are letting us down," a tearful Tunisian told newsmen. His companions shouted: "You will pay for it dearly."

French units that attacked by land, sea and air Friday claimed control of high ground commanding the vital canal that links the sprawling French military base with the Mediterranean Sea.

Officials in Paris said the sole purpose of the French military action is to safeguard land and sea approaches to the base threatened by Tunisian barricades.

A French spokesman told the U.N. Security Council his country earnestly desired an end to the conflict. He renewed France's offer to accept an immediate ceasefire to be followed by negotiations on a withdrawal from the base when conditions return to normal.

Tank-supported columns, land sea planes and French warships took part in Friday's assault.

Main targets were the barriers set up by Tunisian soldiers five days ago.

French planes strafed a Tunisian military post in the city and supported attacks against roadblocks between the main naval base and such other installations as repair shops, dumps and landing strips.

Tunisia's government radio said at least 150 Tunisians died in the attack.

It also charged that 100 Tunisian volunteers moving to claim a slice of French-held Sahara 50 miles to the south were killed when French planes attacked with jelled-gasoline napalm bombs. The French denied using napalm bombs anywhere in Tunisia.

The French reported losses of 13 dead and 30 wounded since shooting broke out four days ago in the undeclared war in this former French protectorate.

At U.N. headquarters in New York, Tunisia—with Soviet backing—accused France of criminal aggression and called on the Security Council to help remove all French military forces from Tunisia.

France replied that Tunisia started the fighting by firing the first shots Wednesday and claimed French forces reacted in self-defense.

France holds the base under a treaty signed after Paris granted Tunisia independence in 1956. The French have refused to negotiate for a withdrawal under Tunisian threats.

The British government joined the United States in appealing to both France and Tunisia to stop fighting and seek a peaceful solution. British Foreign Secretary Lord Home held separate conferences with the French and Tunisian ambassadors. There was no immediate indication of their reaction.

City Democrats Set Future Meeting Dates

Democratic precinct committees, at a meeting Thursday evening at the Memorial Building, decided to change the date of future meetings to the first Monday of each month, the next one to be Aug. 7.

The organization will sponsor a card party at St. Paul School auditorium Sept. 14 and tickets are being distributed to all precinct workers.

City Democratic Chairman William Steffel said that the party's platform committee, headed by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer, already is at work on a platform for the fall election campaign.

Ministers, Educators Agree On Youth Day

The Salem Ministerial Association and the local school administration have worked out a schedule whereby Wednesday will be clear of school activities in order that churches of the community may utilize this day for their youth activities.

Those who are involved in a church youth activity on Wednesday afternoons will be released without penalty from athletic squads on that day, according to Rev. Bruce Milligan, president of the Ministerial Association.

Phone Booth Boxes Looted At 2 Places

The sheriff's office reported that someone broke into the coin box in the public phone booth at the junction of Routes 9, 30 and 644 in Kensington sometime last evening.

Columbiana village police also reported to sheriff's office that they also had a money box broken into in a phone booth at Firestone Park.

Both departments are investigating.

At Lisbon early this morning someone climbed over the fence at the village swimming pool and ripped a phone off the wall of a pay station, according to Patrolman Leon Zahndt. Pool Manager Denny Reese found nothing else missing.
